1. INTRODUCTION

This is the reason why at MCB Group we believe that we always need to strive to keep our businesses from being distracted by the effects of unethical conduct, and from the serious financial losses that can result.

This code of ethics (the “Code”) has been devised to provide directors and employees (collectively the “Employees”) of each business cluster, i.e., banking, non-banking financial and other investment, regrouped under the MCB Group Limited (collectively the “Group”), the required information on how to always conduct business with the highest levels of integrity. This Code, together with the rules and policies applicable within the Group, provides undeniably, to each one of us the required information to understand how ethics can differentiate us in the marketplace from our competition.

Reflective of its corporate philosophy and anchored on its core values of Integrity, Customer Care, Teamwork, Knowledge, Innovation and Excellence, the Group believes that to maintain its strong relationship with customers, shareholders, employees and local communities, it is essential in our day-to-day activities to maintain the highest standards of business ethics and alertness in the protection of the necessary trust required of a financial institution.

The conduct of every person within the Group has a substantial impact on the Group’s ability to maintain continued success as well as good reputation. We constantly have to apply common sense, sound judgement and integrity to the business issues we face and this will help ensure that decisions taken are consistent with the values of the Group. Such behaviour has sustained our organization since 1838, a remarkable achievement. To assure our continued success, and Help Make Something Happen Every Day, each one of us must constantly adhere to both the letter and spirit of the present Code .
